Then will all the swelling and gloom over the whole community, of monia, was an event which has cast a which Mrs. Dwinell was a most loved and honored member. Her maiden name was Harriet Frances Grow, and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard S. Grow, for many years residents of Lyndon. She was born at Der-by, Nov. 25, 1858. Her education was received at the Orleans Liberal Institute, in Glover, and in Glover she was married June 4, 1879, to Dr. Fred E. Dwinell. In 1881 they removed to East Burke, where they lived until 1889, then coming The fair which was held last week to Lyndonville, where their home has remained since. Two children have been born to them, and remain to mourn the loss of a devoted and self-sacrificing mother, Maud and Fred Jr. Mrs. Dwinell's funeral was held Saturday afternoon at her late home, conducted by the Rev. I. W. MacLaughlin. A lavish quantity of beautiful flowers covered the casket, and adorned the cooms. The Eastern Star Chapter, of which Mrs. Dwinell was a member, attended in a body. The bearers were her brother, Charles Grow of New Bedford, Mass., her two brothers-in-law, H. Dwinell of Maynard, Mass., and Dr. A. C. McDowell of this place, and Roger Ladd. Besides her husband, two children and brother, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Gertie Richardson, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. Dwinell was an earnest and devoted member of the Universalist church of this place. Although of frail physique, she was energetic and hard working, and accomplished more than some much stronger women. Her whole life was devoted to her husband and children, and for them she gave of her best. An ideal with a Christmas tree, Tuesday evening housekeeper and home-maker, she was also universally liked and respected and no word was ever spoken but in her favor. Her friends included all who knew her, and although of a quiet and retiring disposition, there are many who mourn for her today. Her works will live after her, and the world is better because she has been. Fresh Eggs in Winter. The poultryman who can supply fresh eggs in winter, when prices are high, has a tremendous advantage over the one who through ignorance or neglect has to wait till summer, when the supply is large. Not every one can do this and no one can do it unless he takes proper care of his fowls and gives them food containing the essential egg producing ingredients which, when running at large, they can supply themselves to a large extent in summer. There is no better substitute for winter use than 'Page's Perfected Poultry Food." H. E. Hathaway of Farnham, Que., has used it. Read what he says: "I have tried it. Read what he says: 'Page's Perfected Poultry Food' and think it is the best I have ever seen." Any one sending his address on a pos-tal card to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., and mentioning this paper, will receive by mail, free, postpaid, a sample package of "Page's Perfected Poultry Food." The President on Thursday sent to the senate the nomination of Charles Fairbanks as pension agent at Concord, N.
